

SECURITY OBSERVER SERVICES

A woman with long dark hair and glasses is seen from the side, looking at several computer monitors in a control room. The monitors display various data and maps. The room is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the screens. A telephone is visible on the desk in the foreground.

SECURITY OBSERVER SERVICES

INTELLIGENCE REPORTS

Know more.

Whether it's a specific individual, another company, economic activity or organisation.

High-value due diligence reports, normally between 10-20 pages delivered in PDF format via email. All reports include a list of sources and methodology used. We implement non-invasive techniques to extract all publicly available information within the legal confines.

Person-of-interest

A threat, nuisance or simply someone you're interested in knowing more about.

Organisation

How many members or where does it get its funding? Could it be of interest to your business or institution?

Company

Where else does a company operate, does it have any legal problems?

Economic activity

The mining industry of Arequipa, Peru, or international fishing companies along Angola's north-western coast

Political developments

Know which organised crime groups are taking over in Haiti or changes in geopolitical alliances in the South Caucasus...

SECURITY OBSERVER SERVICES

Ideal for business trips or securing logistics lines

TRAVEL SECURITY ASSESSMENTS

If you're travelling overseas, especially to certain areas of the world, minimise the risk with a travel security report.

These are normally between 5 to 20 pages, are provided in PDF format or an e-mail update for quick weather updates.

Route planning

Determining the ideal route for transport or travel. Do you need more petrol stations for vehicles or the shortest possible route? We can also map out crime-prone areas throughout the route.

Health and environmental risks

Covid, minefields, wild animals, heatwaves or extremely cold weather, poor infrastructure, provide us your route and we will highlight any health or environmental risks you may face.

Crime mapping

We map out problematic areas so you avoid them. Something difficult for any traveller going on short notice to a new place, providing neighbourhoods, crime types, frequencies, trends and patterns to keep you safe.

OPEN-SOURCE AND SOCIAL MEDIA REPORTING

There is a lot more information out there than one can imagine. Social media, and the internet as a whole, remains one of the biggest sources of information security consultants use for the job.

Although highly time-consuming, a thorough investigation of this type can yield surprising information. Our reports scrape through social media, finding links, trends, political affinities and other traits so you can better know your audience.

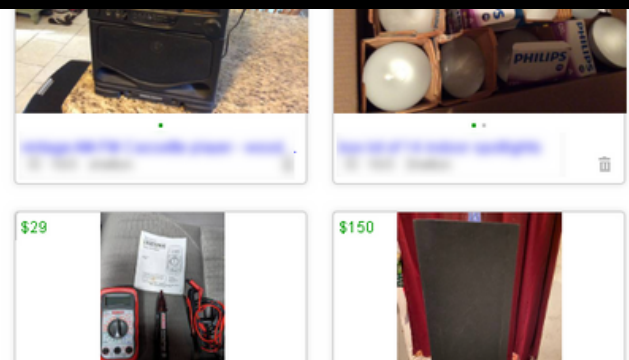

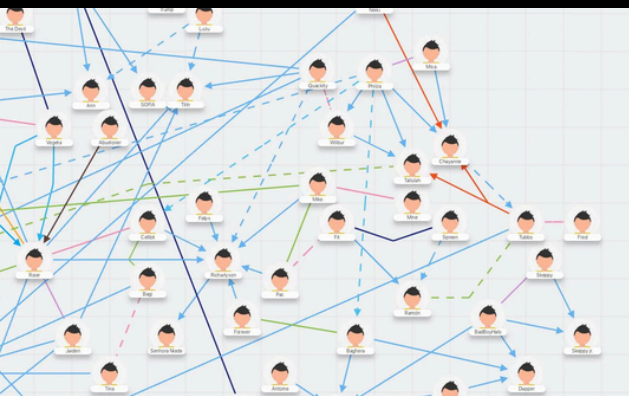

All reports of these types include a detailed statistical analysis with graphs and charts to help you understand the matter.

Pre-screening potential new hires

Know who you're hiring, do they have the experience they say they have? Can they can be a potential risk for your company?

Theft at your workplace

Is the suspect selling items online? What ties do they have? Workplace theft is often uncovered through social media postings.

OUR REAL-TIME MONITORING

Plan ahead with real-time monitoring, track interruptions and stay ahead of everyone else

Deliverables provided through either a periodic e-mails or PDF updates (your choice) of the ongoing situation.

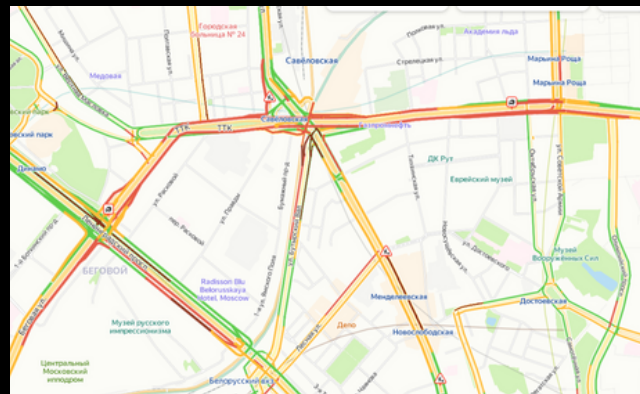

Protests

Companies in protest-prone areas of Paris, London or Berlin have seen significant interruptions in the past.

Crime

As a new crime trend is surging, get ahead of others to mitigate the risk. We can provide weekly or monthly updates of all the crimes for your information.

Conflict

Unforeseen conflicts can seriously hinder economic activity and cause significant financial losses. We monitor these geographic spaces to help mitigate the threat.

Weather

Real-time weather monitoring a popular deliverable for storm-prone areas (Caribbean, southeastern United States, southeast Asia)

Financial changes

Have a business overseas? Keep yourself updated on local laws and changes so as to not interrupt your business activity there.

SECURITY OBSERVER SERVICES

CONSULTING SERVICES

Besides deliverables, we will work alongside you to develop long-term risk and security management strategies which can include:

- Threat response and readiness programmes
- Designing and maintaining databases
- Developing and implementing surveys
- Creating standard operating procedures

Integrating knowledge of French, Spanish, Russian, Turkish, English and others, as well as in-country knowledge, providing for a variety of sources for information.

Present internationally from South America to Africa, Southeast Asia, Europe and beyond. Never limited to a specific area.
